Mr. Money declared this view to be absurd.

Mr. Pairbanks spoke at some length, his speech being the first he had made since the debate began. He made an appeal for unaufmity of action, in order that the country might present a harmonious front to the outside world in dealing with so important a question. He mad that no pircitian political advantages could possibly be claimed by any one in the ratification, and best out the view that soid support of the administration would be of vast advantage to the administration in the present crists. In this connection he referred to the opening of hostilities at Manilla and expressed the view that the ratification of the treaty would do much to prevent further bloodshed and restore quict.

VOTE ON TREATY

Washington, Feb. 6.—As to the change in conditions wrought by the ratification of the treaty today, there vest amendment rejected.

Promptly at 1 o'clock the vice president interrapted Senator Money, who was then specialing, to announce that the hour had arrived for a vote. But one amendment was effered—that prepared by Senator Vest, pincing the Philippines on the same footing as Cuba in this trouty. In the temporary absence of Mr. Vest It was presented by Mr. Gorman. This amendment was a follows:

"Article 3, strike out the words cedes to the United States," and insert in lieu hereof the words 'relinquish all claim of sovereignty over and title to."

This question will not be settled or dwarfed by mere personal considerations or feelings. Who is it in this country that cares for me or for any other man or for my sepirations or for his? Yet the senator from Colorado (Wolcott) made certain references to me in a speech delivered on this floor."

WOLCOTT'S ATTACK.

Mr. Gorman then quoted the following statement in Mr. Wolcott's speech:

"Yet, while this critical condition of affairs exists, it has become ovident within the last few days that certain political leaders in this chamber believe that a new issue should be brought before the American people, to be determined at the next presidential election.
